

Joe Stergios is the Strategy and Business Development Manager at Enterprise Fleet Management where he is responsible for OEM and supply chain, sales training, competition strategy and national associations. He has worked with Enterprise for over 16 years.

Joe studied economics at the American University of Paris, holds a BA and completed his MBA at Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey.